WOMAN GUILTY IN SUIT THEFTS; JAILBREAK TRY CASE IS HEARD

Theoria Jackson, Washington, D.C., was placed in custody of the sheriff after a jury found her guilty Monday afternoon in Adams County court on two larceny charges involving six counts based on thefts of clothing from the Hershey's Men's Store on Baltimore St. The jury deliberated 15 minutes before returning its verdict at 2:15 Monday afternoon.

Trial was begun Monday afternoon on charges of conspiracy, planning prison breach and accepting unauthorized articles in a penal institution against Charles Edward Lockner, alias Robert C. Sheaffer, of Calhoun, Ga. FOUND SAW BLADES

Sheriff Dawson Miller testified that a prison, Kenneth Wagaman, notified him January 21 that there was going to be a jail break. The sheriff, State Policeman Cpl. James Treas and Charles Todd and Deputy Sheriff James G. Warren entered the cell block for a shake down inspection. They found a pair of pliers under the sheet of the bed in Lockner's cell. Also in the cell Officer Todd saw what appeared to be a string across one of the bars over a heating vent. He found two hack saw blades attached to string, hidden inside the air vent.

A statement by Charles A. Harlow, 19, Aspers R. 1, who had entered a plea of guilty to furnishing weapons to convicts, aiding prison breach and delivering unauthorized articles to a penal institution was read.

CHANGES STORY

In the statement, Harlow said that since he was going to be released from the prison he "more or less volunteered" to bring two hacksaw blades to Lockner. He was also to have a car ready for Lockner and when Lockner made his escape was to transport Lockner to Baltimore where friends of Lockner would give Harlow $800.

After getting out of jail Harlow purchased two hacksaw blades and then returned to the jail that night, climbed over the fence on the north side of the jail, went to a window of the cell block as pre-

Mother Seton And Bishop Are Approved For Beatification

Special services will be held at St. Joseph College, Emmitsburg, founded by Mother Seton, on March 17, the day of her official beatification in Vatican City. A three-day observance will follow.

VATICAN CITY (AP) — The Vatican Congregation of Rites today approved the beatification of two American Roman Catholic figures, Mother Elizabeth Ann Seton and John M. Neumann, fourth bishop of Philadelphia.

Ceremonies for the beatifications were scheduled next month. Beatification frequently—but not always — is followed by the church's highest honor, canonization, or sainthood.

Mother Seton, a convert to Catholicism, may become the United States' first native-born saint.

BORN IN NEW YORK

Born in New York in 1774, she turned after her husband's death to the education of youth and to charitable work. She founded the Sisters of Charity of St. Joseph in America and died in Emmitsburg, Md., in 1821.

Her beatification is scheduled March 17.

Bishop Neumann was born in Bohemia in 1811. After studying for the priesthood in Budweis, he came to America in 1836 and was ordained in New York.

Pope Pius IX named him bishop of Philadelphia in 1852. He died there in 1860.

His beatification is scheduled for March 19, the feast day of St. Joseph.

MET WITH POPE

The way for the beatifications was cleared today as cardinals, prelates and theologians belonging to the Vatican's Congregation of Rites met with Pope John XXIII in the papal throne room.

With the Pope looking on but not voting, the cardinals and prelates approved formally two miracles proposed for the beatification of each figure. The approval of the miracles amounted to approval of the beatifications.

After they are beatified at glittering ceremonies in St. Peter's the two will merit the name "blessed."

Mother Seton will be the first native-born American to receive this honor.

Two further miracles must be approved for sainthood.

Bishop Neumann was first proposed for eventual canonization in (Continued On Page 2)

Official Dispute On Streets' Care

Gettysburg's mayor and the borough engineer apparently are in a dispute over whether the town's streets are being properly sanded where icy spots occur.

Mayor William G. Weaver placed a statement on the borough police call sheet Monday afternoon in which he said that after many complaints and police inspections the mayor requested that the borough engineer undertake a program of sanding all intersections and other icy spots.

The mayor added that Borough Engineer LeRoy Winebrenner had held that he had "taken care of the sanding, which fact I disputed with him," according to the mayor.

Mayor Weaver said he placed the statement on the sheet as proof that "I have made every effort possible to alleviate the situation, and as a protection should a serious accident occur."

LIONS AT ICE CAPEDES

A busload of Gettysburg Lions and their ladies and a few other guests went to Hershey Monday evening for a showing of the Ice Capades. Guests included Miss Louise Ramer of the high school faculty and two foreign exchange students from the school. The trip took the place of the club's regular meeting.

Town To Lose $100,000 Year Office Of FCC

Gettysburg is going to lose another $100,000-a-year business unless something is done at the earliest moment.

The Gettysburg office of the Federal Communications Commission, located in the former McCauslin garage, York St., will be closed and moved to Washington August 1, The Gettysburg Times learned today.

Exra Chambers, in charge of the local office, confirmed the report this morning. He said that official word came to the local office last Thursday that the facility will be transferred to Washington where it will be placed under automation processing. This means that 25 employees, whose average pay is approximately $4,000 per year, will be out of a job, unless they accept position in the nation's capital, if available, or find employment locally.

HANDLE 2 SERVICES

The local FCC office handles Citizens Radio Service and Amateur Radio Service, and these two services are the first included in the transfer to automation processing.

The base pay for local employees in what is termed grade three classification, perhaps the lowest, is $3,820 per year. Many others receive more than that and the average is estimated at approximately $4,000 or more per year.

Nineteen of the 25 employees here are Adams Countyans. Some may accept a position in Washington, but it is reported that most do not wish to leave here and will seek employment in this area.

The local office was opened four years ago. At first the employees were former Washingtonians. On June 22 the first local residents were employed.

In the early future each employee here will be given a form to fill out indicating his or her preference for employment, in Washington with the FCC if a position is available, or with another agency if vacancies exist there. There is no indication that they will be assured employment.

CHIEF SEEKS WORK FOR 100 COLLEGE BOYS

Chief of Police Jack Bartlett was seeking work for approximately 100 college students today. The work is to be performed Saturday afternoon as part of the requirements for 180 pledges to fraternities under an arrangement made by the Interfraternity Council of the college.

The chief of police, who had good results when the Alpha Chi Rho Fraternity offered to help clean up debris around the town two weeks ago, agreed to help line up work for the 180.

So far he has jobs for about 80, which about 50 to help in cleaning work at the county home plus clearing out some weeds, etc. Some others will help out at the Red Cross office. Others will assist in tearing down two sheds that the owners feel should be removed.

Right now the chief is hoping a lot of other townspeople will call him listing projects such as tearing down old sheds, cleaning up weeds or brush or "anything else they think the boys can do Saturday afternoon."

Those with projects should call the chief as soon as possible. He hopes to have all 180 pledges at work Saturday.

Kennedy Orders Parade For Venezuelan President

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy ordered a parade through the heart of the capital today as a special welcome to Venezuela's President Romulo Betancourt, a friend of the United States and a No. 1 Latin-American enemy of Cuba's Prime Minister Fidel Castro.

Enroute to his meeting with Kennedy, Betancourt received an enthusiastic welcome Monday when he stepped off at San Juan, Puerto Rico.

Without mentioning Cuba by name, he told newsmen, "as long as the Communist beachhead in America is not eliminated, we will be exposed to the risk of sabotage."

CLOSED INCIDENT

He began his trip as headlines focused on the hijacking of the Venezuelan freighter Anzoategui, and avowed Communist attempt to discredit Betancourt and his trip.

But U.S. officials treated the hijacking as virtually a closed incident, showing another Red resort to violence. Betancourt, landing at San Juan to the cheers of thousands, publicly ignored the runaway ship.

Speaker Scores Regime That Ignores Lincoln Principles At Annual GOP Dinner Monday

SAYS RACIAL PREJUDICE HAS MANY CAUSES

Racial prejudice has many causes, Dr. Kenneth Smoke of the faculty of Gettysburg College said Monday evening at a meeting of the Rotary Club at the YWCA.

Dr. Smoke was one of three speakers on "Prejudice" presented as a Brotherhood Week program. The other speakers were Adam Myers, first negro mail carrier who spoke of the effect of prejudice on the local negro residents, and Attorney John D. Thrush who spoke of the laws pertaining to prejudice.

Dr. Smoke said economics is one basis for prejudice. "The person who says the negro must be kept in his place means really that the speaker wants to continue to stay in his place, which presumably is higher than that of the negroes."

"Another basis is to have a scapegoat. This is a very old human habit. We don't want to assume blame, so it is a comfort to put the blame on someone else."

"And it gives those who are prejudiced a feeling of status, they feel they are superior to someone else and this improves their own estimation of themselves."

"Since there are many causes, the attempt to do something to combat prejudice will have to combat not one but many causes."

CHANGING LEGAL VIEW

Attorney Thrush, in citing legal viewpoints on segregation, said the first great court opinion was the Dred Scott decision holding negroes were property and therefore not entitled to any rights. That was supplanted by the "separate but equal" doctrine of the Supreme Court and in 1954 the present Supreme Court ruling that school should be integrated came into being. He also told of various Fair Employment Practice acts and other legislation against prejudice.

Attorney Thrush said that "un-

THREE INJURED IN ACCIDENT

Two women and a child from Toronto, Canada, were removed to the Warner Hospital shortly after noon today following an auto accident a mile north of Heidersburg on the Gettysburg-Harrisburg Rd.

The Canadians were treated at the hospital and discharged. Mrs. Edward Albon, 39, had a laceration of the right knee and fracture of the left shoulder; Mrs. Patrick Stafford had a laceration of the thigh and Michael Stafford, 2, had contusions of the left foot.

An Aero Oil tank truck had skidded sideways on the road, blocking the highway. This prevented York Springs from bringing its ambulance to the scene and Gettysburg was called.

Ambulance crew members said traffic was blocked for a quarter of a mile or more on the Gettysburg side of the slippery highway.

Swope's service station told the truck was summoned to move the tank truck.

America can be the first free system in the history of civilization to break the 200-year cycle of self-destruction.

Criticizing the Kennedy administration for "strangulation of individual freedoms" by "squeezing controls to death," Indiana Congressman Donald C. Bruce Monday evening told a crowd of more than 300 persons at the annual Lincoln Day dinner in the dining hall of Gettysburg College, "There is a tendency in government today to ignore the principles and lessons that have come from men like Lincoln."

He traced the history of civilized man from 1776 and warned that 1976 will mark the 200-year anniversary of freedom from bondage.

This was the largest attended Lincoln Day Dinner ever held in Gettysburg.

GAVE 4,500 ADDRESSES

The son of a former Pennsylvania minister, Bruce has delivered 4,500 speeches on state and national issues in the past 11 years. The Gettysburg speech was the ninth in 12 days in the east and Bruce said "all were capacity crowds." He spoke Saturday in Middlebury, Va., near the Kennedy home at Glen Ora, Va.

He was introduced here by Congressman George A. Goodling.

Bruce said the enthusiasm and interest in national and international affairs "has been tremendous" at meetings he has attended in recent months.

"People are concerned and they are scared at what is happening to their freedoms," He quoted writings of Arthur Schlesinger Jr., a Kennedy top advisor, in which the New Frontier envisions "a new society of men who believe they have a superior intellect to build a better world." He accuses the administration of usurping the rights and freedoms of Americans through "managed news," "controlled economy" and a movement toward government ownership. He says, "This administration believes it can spend the individual money better than he can."

Citing the rise of Hitler in Germany, Bruce declared, "strangulation methods and tyranny built a national power in Germany," and used concentration camps for resistors. But he asserted, "We cannot combine tyranny and freedom."

"Can we survive the historical

OBSERVED BY COUNTY GUARD

Adams County's National Guard unit, Howitzer Battery, 104th Armored Cavalry, Monday night observed "Muster Day" with a reenactment of the musters of two centuries ago in Lincoln Square and the promotion of their first sergeant to the highest noncommissioned rank ever held by a local guardsman.

During the ceremony 1st Sgt. James A. Noel Jr., Hanover, a veteran of 14 years service in the Army and Guard, was promoted to the grade of sergeant E-8, the highest noncommissioned rank ever given by the local unit.

Sergeant Noel, 33, father of five children, is an industrial engineer with Emeco Corporation, Hanover.

For the muster day the guardsmen wore clothes reminiscent of those worn by the men of the county when they reported, during the period from the American Revolution up through Civil War days, for the annual musters held in the county seat to list the men available for emergency duty. Some of the guardsmen carried pre-Civil War muskets, and wore the triangular hats of colonial days.

Presentations were made during the ceremony to both The Gettysburg Times and WGET for service to the Guard. The battery commander, Capt. Donald E. Doersom, presented framed paintings of early engagements to Parker H. Cunningham for WGET (Continued On Page 3)

Mr. and Mrs. J. Blaine Waddle, Main St., Fairfield, are observing their 55th wedding anniversary today at their home. Mr. Waddle operated a general store in Fairfield for many years before retiring about 15 years ago. Both are natives of Fairfield.

They have three children, Charles, Bridgeport, Conn.; Mrs. Charles McDannel, Arendtsville, and Mrs. Stanley Musselman, Corryville. There are six grandchildren.

Hijacked Ship Is Nearing End Of Its Drama

BELEM, Brazil (AP) — The high-seas drama of the hijacked Venezuelan freighter Anzoategui neared an end today—its aim of preventing President Romulo Betancourt's visit to the United States thwarted and Betancourt's regime apparently still firmly in the saddle.

The ship swung at anchor in Brazilian waters waiting for a Brazilian corvette to escort it 420 miles down the coast to Belem. There was speculation that the ship had halted because it ran out of fuel or had engine trouble.

U.S. craft, hovering outside Brazilian territorial waters, kept the made no attempt to arrest it.

PROMISED ASYLUM

Brazil has promised political asylum to the hijackers when they surrender the vessel. The Venezuelan Foreign Ministry said it will demand their extradition. The ship will be returned to Venezuela, presumably with its captain and most of the 35 crewmen.

Second Mate Wilmar Medina Rojas radioed that he was the only crew member involved in the seizure. The other eight men who reportedly carried out the seizure with Medina Rojas apparently were Communist terrorists smuggled aboard before the ship sailed last Tuesday for Houston, Tex., and New Orleans, La. However, it also reported that the crewmen joined the insurgents and will ask asylum in Brazil.

Betancourt spent Monday night on U.S. territory—the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico—where he was hailed by large crowds and warmly greeted by his old friend, Gov. Luis Munoz Marin.

SAYS RACIAL

fortunately, you can't legislate away unreasoning dislike," Dr. Smoke said on the contrary that he believes in the long run legislation will help to remove prejudice. He also said that in the long run meetings between whites and negroes will help remove prejudice.

JOBS AND HOUSING

Mr. Myers said the principal areas of prejudice locally are in the areas of employment and housing. Noting that employment is critical locally, he said, "That makes it difficult for everyone and even more difficult for the negro because most places would prefer unqualified white labor in preference to qualified negroes." He said that in meetings with various employers many said they had no prejudice but did not want to hire negroes when none were hired by their competitors. "Thus we continue to merry-go-round." As part of the "merry-go-round," he said, those local negroes who are fortunate enough to obtain good educations go elsewhere to seek employment commensurate to their abilities "and this our youth does not have the professional people to emulate and so many of them do not reach their full potential."

In housing, the negro is confined to the Third Ward and "since there is nothing to prevent the white from moving into the negro section but the negro can't move into the white section," housing is a great problem for the negro here. He said they also have found that those who rent their homes take the rent but never put anything back into the houses. "So people say where the negro lives the property goes down. That is not the negroes' fault—the owner simply will not make repairs."

As a result Negroes, whenever they can, are buying their own properties, he said.

Mr. Myers told of one Negro family which had purchased a home in a section near but not in the Negro section. "He asked me what to do, saying he was told that the whole block was complaining. I told him if he had the money to buy the house and the neighbors didn't, then he should go ahead and buy it since he had a right to do so. He bought the house and there has been absolutely no complaint from any neighbors."

Real estate agents, he said, do not try to sell anything out of the Third Ward to Negroes, explaining "there is no sense stirring anything up."

He held, "Because the people locally are proud and nonviolent they won't speak out to the white person who can help them and so the white assumes the Negro is satisfied." He said that in the organization of a biracial group to seek to remove local prejudices "only 12 other Negroes would join."

He added: "We felt that in view of the 100th anniversary coming up in Gettysburg we must diminish discrimination. With the focus of the nation on Gettysburg one incident could bring in outside agitators. Westminster is an example of this. I think the outside agitators do the people who live in a town more harm than good."

"We feel the best way to cope with this is to talk to groups like yours. We are trying to get the discrimination from race to individual—that the selection of a

SNOWPLOWS BUSY AGAIN

Today's snow that should have been rain, according to some of the forecasters, had mounted to more than two inches by early afternoon and the white stuff continued to fall. Forecasts continued to predict a shift to rain, possibly tonight.

The wet, heavy snow slowed traffic and made highways very hazardous. Numerous traffic tie-ups were reported on main highways where trucks had difficulties on hills and in some cases slid off the road at least partially blocking the movement of traffic.

State Highways department started sending out cinder crews and plows at 9 a.m. a half hour after the snow began here. By noon all 43 trucks were at work scattering antiskid material or plowing snow.

In was just a week since the last snow. On last Tuesday about 3 1/2 inches of light, dry snow fell and later caused traffic troubles when strong winds piled deep drifts across roads. The highway officials said that today's wet snow was not a threat for drifting.

Monday night's temperature did not go below the 30-degree mark at the Gettysburg Times weather station and the mercury hovered near the freezing point most of today.

"TO TELL A MAN"

You can tell a man by the way he acts . . . when things are going good . . . if he's humble, quiet and reserved . . . he's being as he should . . . but if he forgets to say hello . . . or suddenly gets proud . . . he's in a fool's paradise . . . engulfed in a shroud . . . for a man knows how to handle . . . failure and success . . . where as a fool laughs for a day . . . and cries when under stress . . . there are other ways to tell a man . . . in fact there are a few . . . but the one I've written of . . . is easiest to view . . . yes, it is very simple . . . try and you will see . . . to tell a man you've but to look . . . for humility.

Wedding

Small—Ditzler

The marriage of Miss Madeline Marie Ditzler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Ditzler, Hanover, and Larry Francis Small, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Small, 604 Ridge Avenue, McSherrystown, took place Saturday at 10 a.m. at St. Joseph's Catholic Church, Hanover. The Rev. Richard Zimmerman conducted the double-ring ceremony and was celebrant for the nuptial high Mass. The church was decorated with red carnations and white gladioli. Music was provided by six members of the Delone High School boys' chorus, Thomas Lehman, Patrick Yeager, Robert Hemler, Jan Livelberger, Raymond Staub and Thomas Adams.

The nuptial Mass was sung by the children's choir of the church. The bride was given in marriage by her father. The bride, at the close to the Mass, placed a bouquet of red and white carnations on the altar of the Virgin Mary.

The attendants were Miss Anita Ditzler, maid of honor; Angela Ditzler, both sisters of the bride, and Mary Small, sister of the bridegroom, bridesmaids; and Marie Ditzler, Mildred Ditzler, Mary Ditzler and Joan Ditzler, the bride's sisters, junior bridesmaids.

Marie Zumbo, Palmyra, niece of the bride, served as flower girl.

Thomas Small, brother of the bridegroom, was best man. Ushers were: Lloyd Laugerman, cousin of the bridegroom, and Kenneth Livelberger, Edge Grove, cousin of the bride. David and Michael Gobel were acolytes. Charles Zumbo, Palmyra, the bride's nephew, was ring bearer.

Following a reception in the social room of St. Joseph's School, the couple left for a trip to Virginia and points south.

For traveling the bride chose a royal blue dress and orchid corsage. They will reside in Washington.

Shade, John Doersom, Robert Spangler, Kenneth Fissel, Mark Green, Richard Eiker and Alfred Karrasch, provided the music.

The program opened with the Howitzer Battery bringing its mess truck into the square where the mess crew served doughnuts and coffee.

After the battery had formed on the southwest corner of the square the roll was called and Captain Doersom and Sgt. Noel inspected the ranks.

After playing of the national anthem, Doersom reported on the history and condition of the guard to Mayor William G. Weaver.

Lt. Dean Bankert was in charge of the firing of the muster day salute and led in the singing of America.

tack consumer choice in our economic structure and extol government spending as the answer to our economic ills; they recommend fantastic increases in spending and large tax cuts in the same breath; they speak of building a better world and ignore the lessons of history in what causes the growth of tyranny; they make a series of tragic errors with their deeds and try to divert attention with sideshows and long hikes in the audience."

He called upon the audience to resist the movement to "give up responsibility and freedom to government" and recall the historical utterings of Lincoln.

"There is one area where we can survive," he concluded. "We can dedicate ourselves to the principles of freedom."

VETERANS PRESENT
State Committeeman Fred G. Pfeffer delivered Lincoln's Gettysburg Address early in the program, of which Atty. Oscar F. Spicer, representing the Young Republicans of Adams County, was toastmaster.

County Chairman H. Earl Pitzer introduced Senators D. Elmer Hawbaker and George Wade, Assemblyman Harry D. Ridinger and county chairmen from York, Franklin, Cumberland and Montgomery Counties. The invocation was delivered by Rev. Robert A. MacAskil.

Pitzer reminded the audience to campaign for registrations and said that jobs still are available for party workers. He announced that a committee meeting will be held in March.

Among the crowd of Republicans and Young Republicans were three of Adams County's oldest party members, Frank M. Moore, Fairfield, 83; Maurice Warehimes, Littlestown, 80, and Roy E. Zinn, Gettysburg, who will be 76 on March 11.

Hold Rehearsals: Rehearsals

are being held nightly for "The Story of the Reformation" entertainment to be given in Bru Chapel this month. The play gives historical information that is not easily forgotten because of the manner in which it is presented. It is surrounded by an attractive religious atmosphere and the interest is held throughout the entire performance. One of the five scenes represented is that of the Monk and choirmen, showing the Monk, impersonated by Mr. Charles C. Culp, trying to make the choirmen stop singing songs in a language that all could understand. The following gentlemen constitute the choir and render several choruses: Edgar Miller, Calvin Hartman, R. E. Zinn, Benton Rudisill, John Blocher, Stewart Rudisill, D. C. Stallsmith, Frank Rudisill, Harry Wentz, E. P. Miller, Joseph Sterner, Jacob Rudisill, Eugene Phillips, George Black, Wilson Bream and J. E. Leaman. One of the most beautiful scenes is that of the nuns and novices leaving the convent. Miss Lily Dougherty will take the part of the abbess and give her farewell words and blessings to the nuns and novices as they go out into the world. Mrs. R. E. Zinn and Miss Reba Miller will be the soloists of the evening. There will be several ladies' choruses and the scene ends with a beautiful tableau. Other ladies in this scene are Mrs. L. A. Deininger, Mrs. R. C. Smith, Mrs. J. Pfeffer, Helen Rupp, Sarah Reen, Alda Ocker, Ruth Bream, Margaret Weaver, Margaret Bream, Pauline Rudisill, Mrs. J. B. Baker, Daisy Wentz, Minnie Lohr, Mary Sheads, Hattie Ziegler and Mary Rowe.

A Million Bricks: During the month of January, the firm of Alwine Brothers manufactured over 1,000,000 bricks at their plant at Berlin Junction near New Oxford. This unprecedented large number of bricks manufactured within that period was made possible only by the favorable weather during that month. Most of these bricks were sold to contractors in Charlestown, W. Va., and other towns in the South. This enterprising firm is now installing machinery for manufacturing drain tiles, etc. Operations in this new industry will begin about the middle of next month.

Cashtown: On Monday quite a number of our citizens were in Gettysburg as witnesses in a disorderly conduct suit of two young men who came into our town last Wednesday night. It seems that all the trouble that occurs in the neighborhood is brought to our town for settlement so that gives our hotel the credit for the drunks and the town gets the name of a scrapping place. We do not mean to say our town is better than any other town, or our hotel any better than any other hotel. Hard cider is often the cause but the hotel gets the blame.

After a long wait for ice, our ice men on Monday started to cut six inch ice on the old Hartman dam. The teams started to haul on Tuesday afternoon to fill the houses of A. R. Kump and J. E. Rebert. Our ice houses in the town are all full of fine seven inch ice.

Urges Addition To High School: The addition of a second school auditorium to the High School building, the censorship of the moving pictures shown in the local playhouses, the establishment of a course of music in Gettysburg's public schools and other matters were up for discussion at Friday evening's meeting of the Parent-Teacher's association. Wm. Arch McClean proposed the auditorium idea, declaring that the present High School room was too small for gatherings such as those held there frequently and that by economi-

Today's Talk

DRAMATIC LITTLE THINGS
Shakespeare talked about life as a stage — with each of us playing a part. Life is a continuous drama. It becomes dull and dull only when we fail to play our part.

Often the simplest and most insignificant parts in a drama are the most outstanding and dramatic. It's the way we do things that counts — not necessarily the part we play.

Going out of our way to do some unusual thing is to enact the dramatic.

I saw a small boy in a big city step suddenly out from the crowd to take the arm of a blind man and lead him safely across a crowded crossing. It was dramatic — beautifully so, though done for no dramatic purpose.

The child, thinking up some small surprise for his father or mother, does a dramatic thing, but it is done in such a natural manner that it amounts to a beautiful art in itself.

In every store, in every railroad, or airport, upon the streets of all our cities and towns, and in homes, everywhere, little things in the drama of life are forever being enacted.

We need the dramatic and the unusual to keep us on an even keel and to cultivate a sense of humor within us, which is so important as the mysteries of life grow more and more confusing.

To plan out small surprises for those one loves and admires is a simple procedure, yet so few of us do it. We would do more of it if we only knew how thrilling it is and how really dramatic it is to do so!

Mind the little things each day. The big things take care of themselves.

THE WORRIER

He worried! He'd assumed a debt

He could not easily forget.

There was a payment falling due;

He thought about it all night

through

And vowed no selfish joy he'd

Until that payment he could make.

He worried! Those there were who said:

Let creditors beware instead.

Fut fear and fretfulness away.

Forget the bills you cannot pay.

But when in debt he fell too deep

He found it difficult to sleep.

He worried! Not as some folks do

By sitting down the whole day

through

And whimpering in bleak despair

About the ills he had to bear.

But in a wholesome, vigorous way

By working, what he owed, to pay.

He worried, and his life long

through

Held the respect of all he knew.

He worried lest a hint of shame

Should mar his credit or his name.

Since honor is the precious thing

Which needs that sort of worrying.

cal management on the part of the School Board he understood the debt had been considerably reduced and that the addition could be made without extra taxation. George A. McClellan thought music should be taught in every grade from the primary to the High School, citing New York State's system in this line. Superintendent Sweeney said that it was very probable that in the near future every applicant for a provisional certificate in this state would have to undergo an examination in music. Mr. Sweeney spoke of the effect of early impressions on a child and made the assertion that he believed five out of every six films shown in moving picture shows had an evil influence over children. More money is spent on moving picture shows in Pennsylvania in one year, he stated, than is collected by local taxation for school purposes and citizens have a right to regulate what is being shown the children of the town. Local censorship was suggested as a proper matter for the PTA. The musical features of the evening were a vocal solo by Mrs. R. E. Zinn and a piano solo by Miss Minnie Lohr.

Scranton Backs Mayor Candidate

HARRISBURG (AP)—James T. McDermott, 36-year-old Republican who hopes to become Philadelphia's next mayor, headed for home today assured of the support and active help of Gov. Scranton.

McDermott and his attractive wife, Mary Theresa, conferred with Scranton Monday afternoon, then spent the night at the governor's executive mansion at Indiantown Gap.

"I am proud to support Mr. McDermott's candidacy and would be very happy to campaign for him if I am asked," Scranton told newsmen shortly after the GOP attorney arrived.

"You are asked, governor," McDermott quickly replied.

LINKLETTER'S NEW SHOW IN DEBUT MONDAY

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Televisio-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—It took a couple of years, but NBC finally figured out how to convert the basic idea of CBS' "Candid Camera" into an audience participation show.

It is called "The Art Linkletter Show," and made its debut Monday night. It may very well find an audience among people who think practical jokes are a laugh riot.

In one bit, Linkletter led the snickers over a filmed sequence in which an unsuspecting professional fashion model thought she was being hired to pose sharing an ice-cream soda with another character. The character turned out to be a chimpanzee.

The candid sequence was halted at the surprised expression on the girl's face when she saw the chimp. Then the audience participation—in this case the guest celebrity, Bobby Darin, plugging his latest movie—was asked to guess whether she would do it or refuse. That's the "audience participation" part. She did it, with the obvious amusement.

"TWILIGHT ZONE" CHANGE

Joan Crawford was scheduled to appear on NBC's "Tonight Show" Monday night to receive an award and talk about "CARE." She notified the charitable organization three weeks ago that she would not be able to keep the date.

Somebody goofed, however, and NBC says that it did not learn about the cancellation until late last week, when "CARE" finally passed the word along. So a lot of fans were disappointed.

"Twilight Zone," after a few months in an hour-long format, will return to its original 30 minutes shape next season, fitting into a Friday night CBS spot.

MORE OF "ROUTE 66"

Imogene Coca will star in a Sunday night comedy series next season on NBC. It is called "Grindl" and concerns the adventures of a "mild-mannered itinerant domestic with a ew job each week"—which sounds like a peripatetic version of dependable "Hazel."

CBS now plans to give "Route 66" another season on the highway—with or without George Maharis.

Recommended tonight: "Apples Don't Fall Far," NBC, 9:30-10:30 (EST)—David Wayne in a "Dick Francisco Chinese New Year's Parade, ABC, 10:30-11—with interpretation and comment on the traditional celebration.

PUC APPROVES FARE INCREASE

MEDIA, Pa. (AP)—The Philadelphia Suburban Transportation Co got the fare increase it asked for and negotiators got ready to try again to solve a 12-day old strike against the firm.

Negotiators faced new talks today at the Delaware County courthouse.

The Public Utility Commission yesterday said okay to the company's request to raise the cash fares from 24 to 25 cents and the cost of tokens from 22½ cents to 24 cents. Ten cent children's fares weren't changed.

The new fares will go into effect next Sunday, providing, of course, the company's buses and trolleys are running by then.

The cars were halted Feb. 8 when about 400 members of Lodge 998 Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen struck for higher pay and better benefits. They were getting $2.45 an hour and want 30 cents an hour more in wages and other benefits, spread over a two year period.

A spokesman for the company, also known as Red Arrow Lines, said it is offering wage increases of 20 cents an hour.

ASK DISMISSAL OF 15 CASES

HARRISBURG (AP)—The state has asked Dauphin County Court to dismiss 15 indictments against eight men charged in the Pennsylvania Turnpike and cinders scandals of the mid-1950s.

Some of the defendants had been convicted and had served time on other charges in the case. The motions were submitted Monday by Atty. Gen. Walter Alessandrini and Dist. Atty. Martin H. Lock of Dauphin County, both Republicans.

Former Atty. Gen. David Stahl, a Democrat concurred in the action.

Alessandrini and Lock said they presented their petitions because they felt there was "little hope of successful prosecution" of the charges.

Special Election In Three Counties

SHAMOKIN, Pa. (AP) — Residents of Northumberland, Union and Snyder counties will decide today whether they want a lawyer, a dentist, or a former school superintendent to represent the 27th state senatorial district in General Assembly.

The special election is being held to fill the seat left vacant last December by the death of Sen. Samuel B. Wolfe, R-Union. The three candidates are attorney Preston Davis, Milton Republican; Dr. John Linnett, a Democrat from Northumberland County, and Dr. Clifford Jenkins, former Northumberland County superintendent of schools who retired two years ago. Jenkins is running as an independent.

Social Security

Q. I am 65 but I am still working. Is there any reason why I should get in touch with the social security office?

A. Yes. Recent changes in the social security law have made it possible for many people who are 62 and over to receive some social security benefits even though they are still working. Don't delay, check today.

Q. I am working part time and since I am going to earn over $1,200 this year, I did not believe that any benefits were payable to me. A friend tells me that I may receive some benefits. Who is right?

A. Your friend is correct. You should get in touch with your nearest social security office immediately for an explanation of your rights and to see what benefits may be payable to you.

Q. Where can I get information that will tell me about how much I may receive in social security benefits if I continue to work after I apply for social security?

A. You may call your nearest social security office or write for free booklets which will describe your rights. If you write, simply request Booklet, OASI-23.

Q. I operate a small seasonal business. I work only during the summer months but make about $3,000. Both my wife and I are over 65. Can we receive any social security payments?

A. Yes. You may receive social security benefits for yourself and your wife during the months in which you do not render substantial services in your business. This is true even though your earnings for the year would not otherwise permit you to receive benefits. Get in touch with your nearest social security office for further information.

Q. I will be 73 years old in June. I am still working full time and earn over $10,000 a year. Should I wait until I retire to apply for my benefits?

A. No! The law provides that social security benefits are payable to an eligible person at age 72 regardless of the amount he earns. Benefits may be payable to you back to June, 1962. Don't delay, check today.

Bullets Cop 13th Victory By Lacing Juniata 73-55; St. Joe's Here Wednesday

The Gettysburg College basketball team rolled to its 13th win of the season by romping over Juniata 73-55 Monday evening before the smallest crowd of the season in the physical education building.

Despite Gettysburg's poor shooting night, landing 31 of 87 shots, the Bullets' much taller team held a big edge in rebounding 70-47. Ted Koerner, Roger Gaackler and Doug Kepner led in rebounds with Kepner grabbing 17 off the boards. George Strouse paced the Bullet scoring attack with 21 points while Koerner netted 18 and Gaackler 11. Lee Mock and Bob Hoelein topped the visitors' order with 17 and 14 points, respectively.

NEVER IN DOUBT

The Bullets managed to shake the Indians loose at the 14:39 mark of the first half in Ted Koerner's jumper to break a 6-6 tie and the home team was never in trouble after that. Gettysburg held a 35-21 lead at the half.

The game itself was filled with mistakes. Easy jump shots and lay-ups were constantly missed. Both teams had trouble handling the ball, consequently making many bad passes.

FRESH EASY WINNERS

The Gettysburg Freshmen recorded their 14th victory compared to one setback by walloping the Waynesboro YMCA 76-51 in the preliminary. The Little Bullets also ran in to the same difficulty of ball handling and missing shots, but were able to pick up midway through the second half.

Dave Yates and Chris Simms led the winners' scoring with 14 and 13 points, respectively, while Jim Rockwell landed 14 for Waynesboro.

Both Gettysburg teams will have their work out for them when they play host to St. Joseph's in a twin bill Wednesday evening.

Fuller Tapers Off For Fight

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—An air of quiet confidence surrounds Gene Fuller's camp as he enters the final two days of training for his middleweight title fight with Dick Tiger.

The brawling Fullmer knocked out sparring partner Ed Hickman in the first round of a training stint Monday. The Los Angeles boxer remained unconscious for five minutes before trainers revived him.

"It felt like a mule hit me," the stunned Hickman said later. The former middleweight champion's strong showing in training has lowered the odds to 3-1 in Tiger's favor. They opened at 4-1.

Odds-makers believe the price will drop to below 2-1 at fight time Saturday.

Tiger of Nigeria took Monday off and went sightseeing to relax.

REACTION TO RETURN BOUT RULE MIXED

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—"It seems like a good idea, yet sometimes it ain't."

That terse comment from world light heavyweight champion Harold Johnson summed up today the general reaction to the resolution of the newly formed World Council of Professional Boxing prohibiting, effective July 1, return bout contracts for title fights.

The resolution was hailed by Nat Fleischer and Harry Markson, two well-known boxing authorities, on their return from Mexico City where the World Council adopted the resolution Saturday night.

"LONG NEEDED"

Fighters and managers who commented, however, were more reserved in their views.

Fleischer, editor of Ring magazine who has gained a worldwide reputation during his more than 50 years in the sport, declared: "The resolution banning return bout contracts has teeth in it and has long been needed. It is the most constructive piece of boxing legislation in many years."

Markson, director of boxing for Madison Square Garden, said the resolution would eliminate what he termed "shotgun contracts."

CITES EXAMPLE

He explained: "This is when a champion tells a contender he'll give him a title fight but he must give him a return fight if he loses."

In expanding his views as a fighter Johnson added: "Suppose it is a very close fight or the champ has an off night, then I think he should get a return fight. Otherwise I think it is a good thing because it will open up boxing to more contenders and give more people a crack at titles."

Gil Clancy, co-manager of Emile Griffith, the world welterweight champion, asserted: "When you have a champion you don't want to put the title on the line unless there is a rematch."

Frank Lary, who looks good in workout, said: "I don't know what the reaction is, but I think it's a good idea."

By JERRY GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer
LAKELAND, Fla. (AP)—One afternoon last June the New York Yankees vengefully ripped into Frank Lary, their arch tormentor, for six runs in the first inning.

Every pitch the Detroit Tiger right-hander delivered shot pain through his shoulder. It was a rare exhibition of mistreatment for the pitcher who on better days toyed with feared Yankee sluggers.

This was the day it was realized Lary's aching shoulder had made him useless for the Tigers in 1962.

ON COMEBACK TRAIL

"He can't break a pane of glass," muttered Manager Bob Sheffing after the bombardment of his 23-game winner of 1961.

Lary completed the first week's work aimed at a comeback from a 2-6 record Monday. And the Yankees beware. Their old nemesis is all ready to break glass.

He pitched for 25 minutes in a converted hangar at the Tigers' minor league training camp, where he reported early. It was his most strenuous outing—and the first time he threw anything other than straight pitches.

"You threw breaking stuff?" Lary was asked.

"Yep," he shot back in his Alabama twang. "And I almost broke a window."

Scheffing is restrained in his enthusiasm over Lary's progress. He's waiting to see how the shoulder holds up against the strain of breaking pitches in exhibition games. But he admits he's encouraged.

"I was never discouraged," said Lary, who hasn't felt a trace of irritation in his shoulder.

Raise Money For
2 Indian Skiers

OTTAWA (AP)—A group of Canadian federal surveyors have raised $173 to help two Indian skiers from the Yukon settlement of Old Crow go to Crested Butte, Colo., for the North American Ski Championships.

"We have raised the money to show our appreciation to the Indians of Old Crow who have helped us in the past during difficult survey operations in the Yukon," said Hugh Munro of the technical surveys department.

The two Indians, Mrs. Martha Benjamin and Ben Charlie, son of the chief of the tribe at Old Crow, competed in the U.S. National cross-country championships during the weekend at Franconia, N.H.

Littlestown High School, holding a narrow lead most of the way, nipped James Buchanan of Mercersburg 54-51 Monday evening on the winner's floor for its third straight triumph.

Both teams played aggressive ball with the Rockets employing a full-court press throughout and the resultant large number of foules. The Bolts converted 14 of 29 free tosses as compared to 11 of 16 by Buchanan. At half time the Bolts led 25-25.

Terry Arbogast and Fred Snyder took care of the scoring for Jack Bream's outfit with 20 and 18 points. Fisher led the losers with 21 to be high man for the evening.

In the wide open game Littlestown netted 20 of 59 shots from the floor as compared to 20 of 86 for the invaders. Littlestown led in rebounding 40-36 with Eddie Koontz grabbing 17.

EAGLES SCORE CADETS

Scotland kept alive its hopes in the Western Division title race by whipping Bermudian 83-59.

The Eagles gave the Cadets a scare by grabbing a 12-5 lead in the first quarter and keeping in front 27-27 at half time.

It was a different story in the second half when the Cadets put on a blistering attack to land 56 points.

Ed Rodrock and Warren Weaver swished 16 and 14 for Bermudian. Torrell Parker rimmed 28 for Scotland.

UPSET FAILS TO DROP CINCY FROM TOP SPOT

By WILL GRIMSLEY

Cincinnati kept a strong hold on its position as the No. 1 college basketball team in the country today despite the upset which snapped its 37-game winning streak.

While the Bearcats were losing their first game since Jan. 10, 1962, to Wichita 65-64 last Saturday night, their closest pursuer for national honors, Loyola of Chicago, also was taking it on the chin. Loyola bowed to Bowling Green 92-75 for its first defeat of the season.

As a result of these developments, The Associated Press' special panel of sports writers and broadcasters decided Cincinnati still should be rated the nation's best team but that Loyola, loser by 17 points, couldn't be figured better than third, behind Duke, which racked up a couple of one-sided victories.

SOME JUGGLING

Cincinnati, gunning for its third straight National Collegiate Athletic Association championship, drew 34 of the 42 first-place votes.

The other eight went to Duke. The weekly Top Ten underwent considerable juggling as the result of the rash of upsets. Arizona State moved up into fourth place. Newcomers to the list from last week are Wichita, Auburn and NYU, in 7th, 9th and 10th places, respectively. They replaced No. 7 Colorado, beaten by Iowa State 73-60; No. 8 Stanford, which lost to California 61-60, and No. 10 Georgia Tech, beaten by Louisville 78-73.

The biggest leap was made by Ohio State, which climbed from ninth to fifth on a 75-68 triumph over Michigan. Illinois surprisingly dropped only two rungs despite losses to Wisconsin and Indiana. Mississippi State also fell a couple of notches after losing to Florida 73-52.

The Top Ten with first-place votes in parentheses:

1. Cincinnati (34)	402
2. Duke (8)	321
3. Loyola of Chicago	280
4. Arizona State	212
5. Ohio State	156

MONTREAL (AP)—Johnny Bucyk of Boston regained sole leadership in the National Hockey League scoring race last week, but look out—Bobby Hull of Chicago is on another late season scoring streak.

Weekly league statistics, released today, show Bucyk on top with 59 points, one ahead of Frank Mahovlich of Toronto, Gordie Howe of Detroit, Murray Oliver of Boston and Jean Beliveau of Montreal who are in a 4-way tie for second at 58.

NEW YORK (AP)—Chicago seems doomed to finish last in the Western Division of the National Basketball Association, but Terry Dischinger of the Zephyrs has the field goal percentage championship in his grasp.

Latest weekly statistics released today show the former Purdue All-American, in his first NBA season, tops this category with 401 field goals in 761 shots for a percentage of .527.

Big Crowd Will Watch Canner-Warrior Contest At Biglerville Tonight

SOME COLLEGE HOMESTRETCH RACES TIGHT

By SHELDON SAKOWITZ

Associated Press Sports Writer

This is supposed to be the time of the college basketball season when the conference races begin to unscramble and a clear-cut leader emerges. But in some of the leagues the standings remain just as jumbled today as they looked at the start of the campaign.

The Big Ten, the Big Eight and the Southeastern conferences all head into the homestretch with the outcome of their races still very much in doubt.

Ohio State, ranked fifth in the current Associated Press poll, and Illinois, No. 6, both won Monday night and stayed tied for first place in the Big Ten.

TIE IN SEC

Eighth-ranked Mississippi State and Auburn, rated No. 9 nationally, posted Southeastern Conference victories and remained tied for the SEC lead.

Colorado, seventh in the listings a week ago but out of the Top Ten this week, lost to Missouri 60-58 Monday night, and not only lost first place in the tightly bunched Big Eight standings, but tumbled all the way to fourth.

Third-ranked Loyola of Chicago, the only other member of the new Top Ten to see action, thrashed St. John's in New York 70-47 while rebounding from a 92-75 upset at the hands of Bowling Green Saturday night.

ILLINOIS WINS

Ohio State, behind Gary Bradds' 31 points, whipped Michigan State 87-77 for its 46th straight home court victory. Illinois, meanwhile, snapped a two-game losing streak and won at Purdue 87-79 as Bill Small collected 32 points.

The Buckeyes, now 16-3 overall, and the Illini, who are 15-4, are tied for the Big Ten lead with 7-2 records with Minnesota and Indiana right behind.

Minnesota, third with a 7-3 mark, turned back Wisconsin 72-48 at Minneapolis as Mel Northway led the way with 22 points.

Indiana won on the road, edging Iowa 72-71 for its sixth triumph in nine league starts. Tom Boyard's 29 points provided the spark.

SEGREGATION ANGLE

Mississippi State, aiming for a third straight Southeastern Conference crown, posted an 86-75 verdict at Georgia and boosted its over-all record to 18-5. Auburn kept pace

IDLE PUPILS NEED LONGER SCHOOL DAYS

By G. K. HODENFIELD
AP Education Writer

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP)—Millions of American children are growing up in frustration, their energies blunted by a society which has nothing for them to do, an educator warned Monday.

Prof. Willard E. Goslin of Nashville's George Peabody College said: "We are possibly the first people in history with little or no economic use for our children, unless one considers their extensive exploitation in advertising."

Goslin told the American Association of School Administrators: "Our technological advances have rendered them (children) unneeded, if not useless. We have made matters worse by moving to town—nearly 90 per cent of us—where we have automated our kitchens and heating systems and put motors on our lawnmowers."

In his prepared speech, Goslin noted that for 300 years an American youth carried in the wood at age 6, learned to plow at 12, and became a full-fledged farm hand at 16.

NO RESPONSIBILITY

"Now, about the only thing we have for him to do is to go to school a few hours a day for about half the days of the year, with time off for football and teachers' meetings," he said.

Goslin called for a nationwide attack on the problem. He suggested:

1. Schools should be opened 12 to 14 hours a day throughout the year with far-reaching adaptations of programs.
2. Parents should try to find work opportunities for their children instead of shielding them from it.
3. Business and labor should accept their share of the responsibility for furnishing work opportunities for youth.

Pushes Girl To Safety; Killed

VENICE, Calif. (AP) — Police say David Brimley, 17, pushed his girl friend to safety when a speeding car bore down on them in a crosswalk Sunday. But he didn't have time to save himself, and was killed.

Officers estimated that the car was traveling 90 miles per hour. It ran a red light, police said, and hit another car before it careened into Brimley.

Brimley was knocked 172 feet. Brimley's date, Paulette Lewis, 16, became hysterical.

After hitting Brimley, the vehicle crashed into two mail boxes

Court Voids Two Acts of Congress

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Supreme Court ruled unconstitutional by a 5-4 vote Monday two acts of Congress which strip citizenship from persons who stay abroad in wartime to avoid military service.

The court majority said the two acts failed to provide procedural safeguards which the Constitution demands, and therefore they could not stand.

Justice Goldberg delivered the majority opinion. Justice Harlan dissented in an opinion in which Justice Clark joined. Justice Stewart also had a dissenting opinion in which Justice White joined.

The high court majority reasoned that the two acts amounted to "punishment" by withdrawal of citizenship. They declared that punishment can never be constitutionally imposed except after a criminal trial and conviction.

Justice Goldberg's opinion explained:

COMMUNISM LOST BATTLE FOR AFRICANS

By HANS BENEDICT

VIENNA (AP) — Communism has lost a battle in Africa. The defeat well could influence the future course of young nations on the Dark Continent.

The battle was lost in the minds of African students who went behind the Iron Curtain and found Communist talk lalibolul equality of man only a lure.

They are coming back with the same accusation of racial discrimination they once hurled at their white colonial masters.

VIOLENT PROTEST

Ghanaians and Ethiopians left Communist Bulgaria last week. They led what may total an estimated 350-500 African students after a series of incidents which exploded into a violent protest demonstration in Sofia.

The Africans, most of them in their 20s, told of racial abuses, forced political indoctrination, police brutality, arrests and fear of deportation.

Bulgarian authorities hurriedly assured African and Western diplomats that the incidents were nothing serious.

LEARNED A LESSON

But the young Africans, some of whom one day may guide the destinies of their nations, said on and a street sign and knocked down a power pole.

Investigators reported that three young men leaped from the car and fled.

BRANDT GETS STRONG VOTE IN W. BERLIN

By JOHN FIEHN

BERLIN (AP)—West Berliners gave their Socialist mayor, Willy Brandt, a smashing vote of confidence Sunday in their first municipal election since the Communists built their Berlin wall.

Brandt's anti-Communist Socialists won 89 of the 140 seats in the city's new Parliament. They had 77 deputies in the 133-seat house elected four years ago.

West Berlin's small Communist party, never represented in Parliament, lost a third of its popular vote. This was blamed largely on the wall. The Communist vote declined from 31,570 in 1959 to 20,887 ballots. In percentage of the total votes, they decreased from 1.9 to 1.3 per cent.

The Christian Democrats, led by Franz Arnheim, deputy mayor in Brandt's coalition government of Socialists and Christian Democrats, won 41 seats, a drop of 14. They lost over 160,000 votes.

The Free Democrats, not represented in the old house, doubled their strength and entered the new city Parliament with 10 deputies.

Political observers agreed that the city election outcome gave a new key to the West German political situation. Berlin, like most big German cities, is a traditional Socialist stronghold. Chancellor Konrad Adenauer's Christian Democratic party is strong in small towns and rural areas.

MAKES STATEMENT

The Christian Democrats are largely a Roman Catholic party. West Berlin is predominantly Protestant.

The Socialists and Christian Democrats had formed a government coalition to demonstrate the unified opposition of the city's major political groups to the East German Communists encircling West Berlin.

Brandt in his first post-election comment said his party is ready to form a new government on as broad basis as possible. But he told the Christian Democrats and arrival in Vienna that they had learned a lesson.

Some had accepted scholarships because they sympathized with communism. Others went to get a free education. Whatever their political affiliations and motives, they all seemed to have been hit where it hurt most—their dignity as colored people.

Political indoctrination to spread communism in Africa through Africans, was a major part of their course of study, the students said.

BOYLE'S Grab Bag

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — One of life's little ordeals is the problem of ice cubes.

Looking back across my cross-gained past, it is no trouble at all for me to see why I changed from an eager, hopeful youth into a sour and cynical curmudgeon, aged before his prime.

It was ice cubes that did it. It seems to me that I have spent the best years of my life dealing with ice cubes.

It didn't seem to be much of a task to my father. When he wanted a lemonade, he chipped his requirements from a large chunk of ice in the ice box. Or he could cool his drink with the water that collected in the pan underneath the ice box.

CIVILIZATION CAME

Then along came civilization—and with it the refrigerator.

It is perhaps unwise to claim that our family had the original American refrigerator. But it is certainly true that we got the world's laziest one — and the Free Democrats they must adapt themselves to the Socialists' campaign platform if they join his coalition.

This was viewed a broad hint that Brandt will not repeat such concessions to the Christian Democrats as his cancellation of a meeting with Premier Khrushchev during the Soviet leader's visit to East Berlin last January.

world's noisiest.

Clank, clank, clank! There never was a secret drinker in our home. The neighbors had no need for a hearing aid.

First a man would develop a thirst. Then he would adjust the gears of the refrigerator. Three days later the ice was ready.

Naturally, by then the ice tray was stuck to the bottom of the freezing area.

HAD A CHOICE

But that wasn't really too much of a worry. You could either try to pull out the ice tray by main force, or to wedge the tray out with a table knife. At least you had a choice.

Once you removed the ice tray from the refrigerator, the task became much simpler. All you had to do then was to get the ice cubes from the ice tray.

We employed one of two simple techniques. We could bang the ice tray against the sink, or hold the tray under the hot water faucet.

Then a couple of fragments of tired ice would tumble out. We would put this small crystal reward into the guest's glass. After a preliminary sip, he would sigh and say, "My, that tastes good. But could I have a mite more ice?"

LAWSUITS PENDING

Those were in the old days. Since then, of course, we have bought a new automated refrigerator.

There is no trouble at all in removing the ice tray. And the ice cubes are separated only by a plastic material. All we have to do is bend the plastic, and out pop the cubes.

The trouble here is that you can't tell where the ice cubes will squirt. Since we got our new refrigerator, our plastic ice shooter has struck down with flying ice one fine old lady and two innocent children in the building across the way. The lawsuits are still pending, and we have asked for a change of venue.

The best solution we have found for the ice cube problem is to join a club which once a year has cut-rate round trips to England.

SOLUTION FOUND

We fly with our guests to jolly old London, and take them into the nearest pub.

"Americans, I presume," says the host.

"Yes, Americans," we assure him.

"Now you wouldn't be expecting ice in your drinks now, would you?" he inquires despondently.

"Yes, indeed," we tell him firmly.

Well, since the English never throw anything away, he searches around in his cupboard-of-before until he finds a few ice fragments left over from the Elizabethan era and plops them into the glasses. The result: a perfect drink.

Since we lent the problem to the British, we have had no more problems with ice cubes.

Why so much to provide an extra room for each of 435 members? John Beckler takes a close look at the project.

By JOHN BECKLER

WASHINGTON (AP)—The vast shadow of a new House office building lies across Capitol Hill these days, and across the desks of members busily seeking ways to whittle President Kennedy's budget.

Those who pause in their pursuit of economy to look at the massive marble structure, still uncompleted, may find themselves haunted by the words of the late Rep. Russell Mack, R-Wash.

"How can any member of the House hereafter criticize the administration for extravagant spending if we ourselves vote approval of this grandiose project?" Mack asked.

How grandiose is the project turning out to be?

MARBLE BUILDING

When ready for use in about 18 months, the new building with its three-room office suites for 169 members will have cost $83 million. The members who move into it will be getting their quarters, along with added facilities of the building, at a cost of $483,000 each.

Renovation of the present House office buildings to enlarge their two-room offices to three rooms will bring the total cost of the project to about $100 million.

Since the original aim was to provide an extra room for each of the 434 members, the taxpayers will be spending $230,000 per added office room.

It was back in 1957 when Rep. Mack asked his question about extravagant spending on the project. The new office building then was just a gleam in the eye of Speaker Sam Rayburn. A huge hole marked its site.

ENDORSED BY RAYBURN

Mack's question went unanswered. No answer was really needed after Rayburn stated firmly during the 1957 debate: "I know better than any other man in the House that we need this additional room."

Today a 10-story structure—named the Rayburn Building in honor of the late speaker and covering two city blocks—rises from the site that had only a large hole in 1957.

The building also will have a swimming pool, nine committee rooms, a cafeteria and five private dining rooms. There will be parking space for 1,600 cars.

Each suite really has a fourth room for a receptionist, and all includes two bathrooms and a built-in refrigerator. The committee rooms will rival movie palaces in elegance and space.

Once the new building is occupied the two existing office buildings will get a top-to-bottom renovation at an estimated cost of $18.5 million. Each member in these will be provided with a three-room suite.

Expansion has not been limited to the House side of the Capitol. The Senate added a second building a few years ago for $25 million, giving each senator at least five rooms, and some, seven.

ISSUE OF U.S. LEADERSHIP RAISED AGAIN BY KENNEDY

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP) — In the give and take of a fast-moving news conference President Kennedy sometimes cringes through the careful restraints worked out by his official advisers and voices in loud, clear words some hard truth of international relations they would prefer to soft pedal.

In the last few days under the stress of question and answer the President has thus thrown the insight of sharp understanding on one of the problems involved in the present disarray of the Western Alliance. This is the problem of U.S. leadership.

It arises in many different contexts and it appears to be much on the President's mind. A little more than six weeks ago in a year-end review of his administration he stressed the need to get things done even at the cost of disagreement and unhappiness in friendly capitals.

NOT IN POPULARITY CONTEST

He does not conceive of the United States as being in a popularity contest. He sees it in today's dangerous world as saddled with a lonely responsibility to see that the necessary things get done at the right time and in the right way to save the world from nuclear destruction and from Communist conquest.

The problem as Kennedy sees it—the problem which is at the core of his differences with French President Charles de Gaulle—came clear in a few flashing phrases at his news conference last Thursday. Kennedy was talking about creation of a nuclear force under the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

Missiles with nuclear warheads may have to be fired on five minutes notice, he said, and the decision to fire may have to be almost instantaneous. NOT VERY PRACTICAL "Who is going to be delegated on behalf of Europe to make this judgment?" the President asked. "Someone has to be delegated with that authority."

"If it isn't the president of the United States it will have to be the president of France or the prime minister of Great Britain, or someone else."

ISSUE POSED SHARPLY

The issue which the President therefore sharply posed is the issue of American leadership. In the present state of international affairs it is essentially the question of whether the Allies now, in changing circumstances, will accept that leadership as a more or less permanent, more or less decisive arrangement.

So long as the United States had a clear monopoly of atomic power it was in position to make its will felt not only in the military but in other fields of foreign policy.

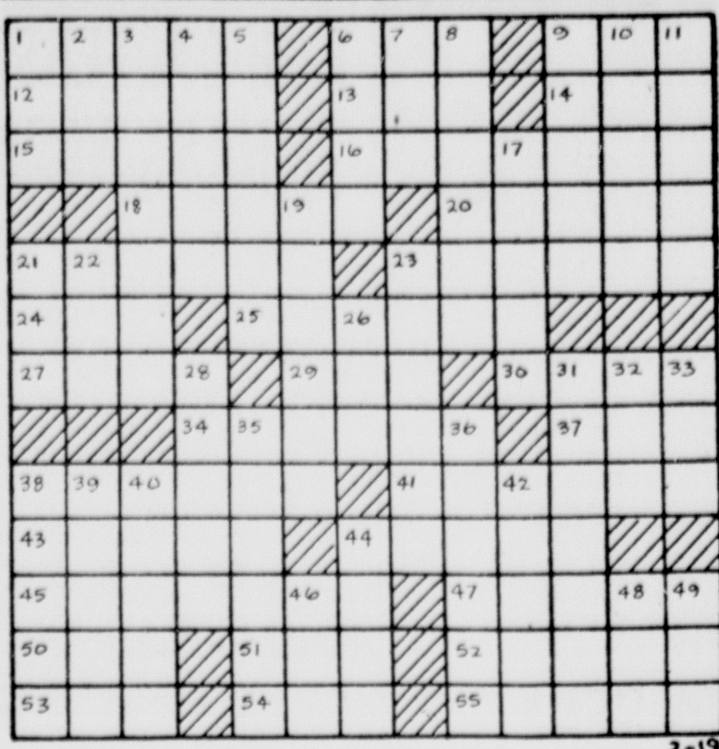

With the postwar growth of economic prosperity in Western Europe, with the rise of Soviet nuclear weapons capacity, with the development of limited nuclear power in Britain and the less advanced production of such might in France, the forces which once placed the leadership of the United States beyond contest by any of the Allies have given way to an entirely different set of policy influences.

THE STARK FACTS

What Kennedy seems to find frustrating and annoying and sometimes frightening is that, underlying the changes in national wellbeing and in the conditions of nuclear power, the stark facts of the power balance which really count are the same.

At this level of international relations there is still only the United States and the Soviet Union; the decisive power to survive or perish still rests in the Kremlin and the White House. The problem is not so difficult

U.S. REJECTS SOVIET PLAN FOR TEST BAN

GENEVA (AP) — The chief American disarmament negotiator said Monday Soviet Premier Khrushchev's nuclear test ban inspection proposal has taken on the form of an ultimatum and is unacceptable to the United States.

William C. Foster said the United States welcomed Khrushchev's offer to allow two or three on-site inspections per year as showing a genuine desire to move toward a test ban agreement.

"We did not assume the number mentioned by Chairman Khrushchev to be an ultimatum which the United States had no choice but to accept," Foster told the 17-nation disarmament conference.

The United States and Britain demand eight to ten inspections per year as a minimum for an adequately safeguarded treaty.

Foster said the United States "evaluated the Soviet offer of two or three on-site inspections as evidence of a real willingness to open negotiations designed to reach a effective test ban agreement."

"It was, therefore, a very real surprise when we were told literally that the Soviet Union would not negotiate on the question of numbers above two or three."

The frozen Soviet position "has shaken our belief that the Soviet Union really desires agreement," Foster said.

Foster told Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Vasily V. Kuznetsov that on-site inspections would not interfere with normal activities in the inspected country and would include complete safeguards against espionage.

He called on Kuznetsov again to discuss details of the inspection procedure. Kuznetsov has refused to negotiate on these details unless the Western powers first accept the two or three inspection quota.

A Lovelier You

SCALES DON'T LIE. A lovely writes: My weight is frustrating. I weigh every day. Some days

I gain and others I lose. Yet I eat about the same amount. Could scales be that unreliable? Or can weight be that capricious?

For all scale-watchers, this answer: A scale may get out of kilter, but when it does it usually goes all the way. And there can be no doubt about its inaccuracy.

Quite oppositely, weight may fluctuate by a pound or so during a 24-hour period. The happenstance is not unusual or abnormal. The reasons vary.

Just drink two glasses of water prior to getting on a scale and you will weigh a pound more. "A pint's a pound" until the body has time to process it.

But over and above what you eat and drink—if that intake is near normal—a principal cause of weight variations stems from the sum of your activities. The more active you are, the less chance there is for food to weigh in. On busy-beaver days more calories are used up than on lazy ones. And used calories literally are weightless.

Consequently, weighing every day can be misleading. Your true weight averages out over a period of time and, to get true picture of it, you should visit the scales no oftener than once weekly. That is so whether you wish to gain, reduce or keep the status quo. For complete accuracy, be sure to weigh on the same scale, at the same hour, and to wear the same amount of clothing.

MONACO SHOW GIVES INSIGHT TO ROYAL LIFE

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

AP Television-Radio Writer NEW YORK (AP) — Monaco, some of us have always thought, is a place where younger sons of earls, usually named E. Phillips Oppenheim, casually lose everything at the gaming tables and then stroll gallantly into the Casino gardens and are never seen again.

But after Sunday night's CBS special, "A Look at Monaco," I know this is all a foolish girl's romantic dream. Monaco is really our town, governed by the folks next door.

Her Serene Highness, Princess Grace, seems to have picked up some sort of a combination British-Riviera accent during the past few years, but she is still more beautiful than any reigning Hollywood queen. She lives—apparently on a perpetual honeymoon—in a colorful little country backed by mountains, covered with white houses with red roofs and with a constant view of a blue-green sea.

BARRED FROM CASINO

The famous Monte Carlo Casino seems scarcely to exist for the princess and the prince. They're barred from the gambling joint by tradition and mostly ignore it. According to the report, the princess from Philadelphia and her prince live in an old castle, raising children, visiting orphanages and admiring paintings, while husband and children visit their private zoo or skindive for rare flora and fauna for their Oceanographic Institute. So who needs roulette and chemin de fer?

There may be a change in plans, but it looks now as if ABC's "Naked City" series is doomed at the end of this season. The police show has had thoughtful, unusual scripts and themes and has gotten away from the usual armed-man-behind-the-door clichés in favor of introspective approach to crime problems.

HOW FAR DOES A HOUSEWIFE WALK A DAY?

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP)—How far does a housewife walk during a normal day's work?

The question was bound to be asked during all this physical fitness business and 50-mile hikes. "Oh, 15 at least," said Ted Simmons, an Atlanta Constitution reporter. "My wife Pat is an average housewife—well, almost average—and to hear her tell it she does a good six or eight miles before lunch."

Simmons was talked into getting a pedometer or walking meter and finding out how much ground she covered during a normal day in a relatively small apartment occupied by themselves and their three children.

"I could tell she was worried right from the start," he wrote. "By 11 a.m. she had only done two and a half miles, and she insists she usually travels that far just trying to get me out of bed."

GOT UP EARLIER "As a matter of fact, she implied that I got up considerably for Soviet Premier Khrushchev because his international relations rest on a system of central control and his allies are satellites or else they break away completely.

For Kennedy the task of exerting leadership and expressing it in permanent organizations among allies is extremely complicated and sometimes very delicate.

more quickly than usual just to cut down on her mileage. This I denied."

Simmons checked the meter at noon and it registered two and three-quarter miles and Pat explained she'd been having a coffee break. At 2:30 p.m. the reporter left for the office. The meter read just over three miles.

"Anyway, the gist of it is, she fell considerably short of the 50-mile mark," he wrote. "I called about 10 p.m. from work, to check again and she said: 'Six and a half miles, wise guy.'"

"Unfortunately I couldn't control the roar of laughter that followed. Unfortunate for me, that is."

"That's about the story. Sorry it didn't turn out as planned. Six and a half miles is pretty good in a small duplex, I guess."

"Anyway, I hope no one mentions physical fitness to me again soon. It's kind of hard to exercise in a doghouse."

PARI-MUTUEL RACING IN PA. BEGINS JUNE 7

By RALPH BERNSTEIN
Associated Press Sports Writer

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Pennsylvania's first pari-mutuel racing plant will open June 7 with one record apparently in the books before a race is run.

Michael J. O'Neill, 42-year-old president of the rapidly rising $12.5 million harness race structure in northeast Philadelphia, says Liberty Bell Park will be the fastest such construction in racing history—10 months from spade to finished product.

O'Neill, who took over direction of Liberty Bell after the death of his father-in-law, James P. Clark, emphasizes, however, that despite the speed, quality has been the construction byword.

"MOST MODERN"

"We told all bidders on the project that we didn't want people to walk over duck boards we have to be big league opening night," O'Neill recalls.

O'Neill, nephew of former major league baseball manager Steve O'Neill, says the track, started last July 26, undoubtedly will be ready by May 26. He expects to open the doors June 7, to the most modern harness racing plant in America.

A FEW INNOVATIONS

"We went to all the leading harness tracks in the country," O'Neill says, "and asked them, if you were to build over again, what new things would you put in. Then, we put them in."

Just to name a few of the innovations, O'Neill mentioned depressed barns in the practice track area, the clubhouse all on one floor, a pneumatic tube system for money handling, the latest word in track lighting, and a

Blame Burglars For $90,000 Fire

WORMLEYSBURG, Pa. (AP)—Authorities in this suburb of Harrisburg are blaming burglars for Monday's fire which destroyed the Lamp Shoppe and caused an estimated $90,000 damage.

Fire Chief Ralph Bachman said the blaze, which was fought by three fire companies, was touched off deliberately by thieves who earlier had taken a portable typewriter, a camera and $45 in cash.

STUDENTS TEST KISSING POWER

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—A trio of Miami students have devised a machine that measures the smooching power generated by two people kissing. It's called the kissometer.

Its creators, including a bouncy 18-year-old brunette, are having a lot of fun with trial runs.

"It all depends on the sparkle inside you," said Tatiana Priutchi, the only female in her electrical engineering class. "If you feel all tingling inside, your kiss will show it."

The kissometer is rigged with flashing lights and ringing bells. The lowest quality kiss flashes a sign that says, "Dead fish." A Casanova embrace will register "Wowee." The hottest smooching registers a "Wowee" and clangs a bell.

"The machine works on scientific principles," said Tatiana, of North Miami Beach. "The couple inside the booth hold an electrically charged probe in their hands. It sends a minute amount of electrical current through their bodies. When their lips meet, the circuit is completed."

The rest is up to the couple.

HARRISBURG (AP)—The 28th Infantry Division, Pennsylvania Army National Guard, says it enlisted 191 recruits during February.

bridge to the grandstand to separate pedestrian and vehicular traffic.

Liberty Bell expects to have 1,200 horses quartered on its 292-acre triangular site for the first 30-day meeting.

SPACE FOR 30,000

"There is little doubt," says O'Neill "that we'll be oversubscribed for stall space. We're already cutting down on requests in order to accommodate as many owners as possible. It seems everybody wants to come to Liberty Bell."

James J. Lynch, a veteran harness race secretary, holds this post at Liberty Bell, and has in the works a program totaling better than $1 million in purses.

The plant will accommodate 30,000 with parking facilities for 10,000 cars, and room for expansion of both. Two tracks have been constructed, one a 58 mile oval and the other a mile, with the same backstretch and home stretch. In addition there is an eye level practice track and separate facilities for drivers, grooms, officials etc. Six public dining rooms will be available.

ASIAN FLU IS STRIKING EPIDEMIC PACE

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Outbreaks of influenza-like disease, hitting epidemic proportions in some Eastern localities, have spread to the Middle West. Respiratory illnesses have been reported to some degree throughout most of the nation.

New York City has an Asian flu epidemic, but it is not as serious as in 1957 when this particular strain swept across the United States for the first time, said Dr. George James, city health commissioner.

In upstate New York, four 40-bed wards of the Veterans Administration hospital at Buffalo were quarantined because of what a doctor termed an outbreak of an acute, flu-like respiratory infection. It has not been diagnosed as Asian flu. In the Buffalo area, five schools reported 10 per cent absenteeism because of illness.

1,000 CASES A DAY

More than 1,000 new cases a day were reported in West Virginia last week.

Flu-like outbreaks spread in Indiana, Michigan, Kansas and Missouri.

Kansas reported the disease on the increase in counties which include Kansas City, Topeka and Lawrence, home of the state university.

In the Cincinnati, Ohio, area, about 15 per cent of the area's school children were out Monday, compared with 23 per cent Friday. City health officials said the flu plague may end quickly—within 10 days.

The Communicable Disease Center of the U.S. Public Health Service said cases have been reported in parts of the South, Southwest, Pacific Coast and the Rocky Mountains.

The center's latest report—covering the week ending Feb. 9—includes 707 pneumonia-influenza deaths in the 108 cities which file reports. There were more than 100,000 cases reported this week.

300-MILE HIKE

PITTSBURGH (AP)—A spy Pennsylvania man walked out of Pittsburgh today on the second leg of a planned 300-mile hike to Washington.

Alvin F. (Moe) Bergman, 75, of nearby Leesdale, departed from a bridge Monday and walked 27 miles to Pittsburgh. He stayed overnight at a hotel.

Bergman, who says he has walked about 325,000 miles during his life, hopes to reach Washington on Saturday.

EVREUX, France (AP)—The wife of an American soldier walked 50 miles in 13 hours 33 minutes to prove she can do as well as most servicemen.

Gertrude Rock, 32, wife of Master Sgt. Paul D. Rock, Crofton, Pa., made the hike Sunday from Evreux Airbase to Dreux and back. Mrs. Rock is from Germany.

PEOPLE IN THE NEWS

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Churchill has been suggested in London as the name for a borough to be formed when the Essex towns of Ilford, Woodford and Wanstead are combined under the Greater London administrative plans.

Sir Winston Churchill has been a member of Parliament for Woodford since 1945 and before that represented nearby Epping for 21 years.

Carole Armstrong, president of the British branch of the Elvis Presley fan club, hopes to get 100,000 signatures to a petition inviting the American singer to Scotland.

Carole said in Edinburgh that she hopes to reach her goal by April and then send the petition to Presley's manager.

Leonard (Red) Kelly, a center with the Toronto Maple Leafs of the National Hockey League, was nominated by the Liberal party for the Toronto riding of York West in the April 8 parliamentary election.

Kelly was elected to Parliament last June.

Cite Labor Trends At Miami Session

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Labor union leaders said today at their winter meetings they are acutely aware that white collar workers are far outstripping manual workers as potential union members in the American job market.

Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz planned to meet during the day with members of the AFL-CIO Executive Council on current problems, including what Wirtz has said is a trend begun in 1956 for technical workers teamed with machines to outstrip craftsmen.

Organized labor in the AFL-CIO has been worried for some time over the prospect that unionized American workers will become increasingly a minority group with declining political and social influence.

NEW SENATE BILL WOULD CUT FUMES

HARRISBURG (AP)—New Senate legislation aims at reducing excessive exhaust fumes from motor vehicles which pollute the air. Introduced Monday with bipartisan support, the package of bills would require mechanical devices to control exhaust fumes and would provide penalties for violations.

The legislation was the high light of another tight working session of the Senate.

Only two bills were passed, both unanimously.

PAY INAUGURAL BILL

One would appropriate $25,000 to offset part of the cost of Gov. Seranton's inauguration last Jan. 15.

The second measure would grant the privilege of appeal from driver's license suspensions to residents of those states giving the same privilege to Pennsylvanians.

The air pollution package ($151,156) was sponsored by Sens. James S. Berger, R-Potter; Charles R. Weiner, D-Phila.; William J. Lane, D-Washington; Robert D. Fleming, R-Allegheny; and Albert Pechan, R-Armstrong.

OTHER MEASURES

—Require establishment of driver instruction classes in all high schools ($142)—Sens. Clarence D. Bell, R-Delaware, and Robert O. Beers, R-York.

—Increase penalties for driving while operator's privileges are under suspension. Fines would go up from $10 to $50 under the present law to $100 to $500 and/or three years' imprisonment ($150)—Sens. John H. Devlin and Leonard C. Staisey, D-Allegheny, and Peter J. Camiel, D-Phila.

—Require the commonwealth to pay to municipalities annually 2 per cent of the cost of operating and maintaining sewage systems. Present law permits up to 2 per cent, but payments usually average 1.5 per cent ($157)—Sens. Charles R. Weiner and Martin Silvert, D-Phila.; Robert P. Casey

YOUTH EAGER FOR CAREERS IN NASA WORK

By MARTHA COLE

WASHINGTON (AP)—A 13-year-old boy in New York wrote the National Aeronautics and Space Administration: "I would be willing to die for NASA, my country and the seven astronauts."

Another boy, a senior in a Michigan high school, wrote: "My main goal in life is to step foot on an alien planet."

These are but two examples found today in the letters that keep coming to NASA from young people starry-eyed about space.

SERIOUS QUESTION

The boys and girls ask serious questions, such as what courses they should be taking in high school and what colleges would be best for preparation for space work.

The NASA answers are in general terms.

They advise the young people to talk with their high school counselors and science teachers and read scientific magazines and books. Plan a solid general education, NASA tells them, and master the basic fundamentals of science and mathematics.

To those wanting to be astronauts, NASA has written, "other factors are the excellence of your academic record in high school and college and the very important qualities of physical fitness and high moral character."

NASA also sends packets of materials to the space fledglings. To some it wrote that it would try to get a spacemobile to stop by their school.

NASA has 12 spacemobiles in the field. They are paneled trucks carrying equipment and materials used in space science lecture-demonstrations.

COMMITTEES TO WORK ON FIVE BILLS

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

HARRISBURG (AP) — House Republicans made plans today to push a substantial portion of the Scranton administration's legislative program now in committees while the Senate awaited the administration's new mandatory school reorganization plan.

House Majority Leader Albert W. Johnson listed five administration bills for the attention of the various committees which now have possession of them:

—Transfer of the 16 professional licensing boards to the Department of State under a new commissioner of professional licensing.

SOME TO GET OK

—An amendment to the state constitution to permit scholarship grants and loans.

—Ratification of the proposed U.S. constitutional amendment outlawing the poll tax.

—Reform of the election laws.

—Release of some $250,000 for anthracite strip mining reclamation.

Some or all of these proposals were marked for committee approval.

REDRAFT SCHOOL BILL

The school reorganization bill was being redrafted hurriedly for introduction today, a week behind schedule.

The GOP legislative strategists were trying to come up with wording that would appease the staunch advocates of repeal of the 1961 compulsory reorganization law while at the same time preserving the principles of the law.

The decision to give greater attention to the cries for repeal of the 1961 act was reached Monday and came in the light of the fact that 95 out of 100 House Republicans expressed sentiment for repeal at a caucus last week.

SWITCH ON REPEAL

The administration last week rejected the idea of repeal because it felt it would be too complicated to attempt repeal and reform at the same time.

The plans were revised Monday, however. Sen. Paul L. Wagner, R-Schuylkill, chairman of the Senate Education Committee, said it was decided to work for a bill that would repeal the sections of

7 Are Fined On Gambling Charges

HOLLIDAYSBURG, Pa. (AP)—

Seven Altoona men have been fined a total of $1,900 on gambling charges.

The seven, arrested in an Altoona pool hall last Oct. 1, were fined Monday by Judge John M. Klepper of Blair County Court after pleading no defense.

Fined were William Freet, 53; Ted Mastos, 35; Joseph Heiminger, 52; Samuel Pattillo, 58; William Niswonger, 62; Louis Longo, 34; and Eugene Furgione, 33. Mastos was fined $100; the rest $300 each.

Police said the seven were involved in numbers and football pool betting. They said Niswonger operated the pool hall.

HOUSE POST BEING FILLED

BROOKVILLE, Pa. (AP)—Jefferson County voters go to the polls today in a special election that will change the close Republican-Democrat ratio in the State House.

Vying for the county's representative seat are Democrat Silas A. Weaver, minority county commissioner, and Republican L. Eugene Smith, who was mayor of Punxsutawney from 1958 to 1962.

As things stand, Republicans hold 108 seats in the house, only two votes over the minimum requirement for passage of bills. Democrats hold 101 seats.

The election is to fill the seat left vacant by the death of Republican Samuel B. Dennison of Reynoldsville last November.

Jefferson County is predominantly Republican in voter-registration, and on the basis of this, Smith is figured the favorite.

The 1961 act and replace them with the new sections of the Scranton bill.

The thinking was that this would mollify the repeal group while preserving the administration's desire for a mandatory act of its own.

Both Houses skimmed through light schedules Monday. They planned to adjourn for the week after today's late afternoon meetings.

Highlights of Monday's activities:

Air pollution—Senate members of the Joint State Government Commission Task Force on Air Pollution introduced a package of bills designed to reduce contaminants in the atmosphere.

Harness — House Republicans defeated amendments that would have barred from ownership of harness track stock such persons as breeders, trainers, professional athletes, sports promoters, and owners of teams and stadiums.

OTHER ACTIONS

Transit — Chairman James S. Bowman of the House Labor Relations Committee announced a series of public hearings on legislation to outlaw mass transportation strikes.

Inauguration—The Senate completed legislative action on a bill to appropriate $25,000 to pay part of the cost of Gov. Scranton's inauguration last Jan. 15. The bill now goes to Scranton for his approval.

Suspensions — The Senate approved and sent to the House a bill to grant the right of appeal from Pennsylvania driver's license suspensions to residents of states giving the same privilege to Pennsylvanians.

WOULD CHANGE PRIMARY DATE IN OFF YEARS

HARRISBURG (AP)—Primary

elections in Pennsylvania would be held in September during gubernatorial and municipal election years under a bill introduced Monday night in the House.

Reps. Adam T. Bower, R-Northumberland, and Alvin C. Bush, R-Lycoming, sponsored the proposal (H302).

The fourth Tuesday of April would remain as the primary date in presidential election years.

The Bower-Bush plan would be to change the primary in municipal and gubernatorial election years from the third Tuesday in May to the first Tuesday following the second Monday in September.

Their proposal follows growing criticism of the increasing costs of state and local elections, due in part to the long campaigns.

OTHER MEASURES

Other new House bills would:

—Extend from March 1 to Sept. 1, the deadline for the report of the commission developing a plan for division of welfare duties between the state and local governments (H314)—Reps. Marian E. Markley, R-Lehigh; Mae W. Kernaghan, R-Delaware; John R. Gailey, D-York; J. Dean Polen, D-Washington.

—Provide for hiring of two architects to plan state school buildings at a fee of 2 per cent, rather than the 6 per cent now permitted for outside architects (H316)—Rep. Stanley H. Gross, R-York.

—Authorize the secretary of public welfare to survey the need for modernizing hospitals and handle federal funds for that purpose (H320)—Reps. Anthony J. Petrosky, D-Westmoreland; James A. O'Donnell, D-Northampton; Sarah A. Anderson, D-Phila.; John T. Walsh, D-Allegheny.

PENSION INCREASE

—Permit restricted licenses for bus or commercial drivers whose regular driver's licenses have been suspended (H323)—Reps. Alfonso Parlante, D-Phila.; Henry Cianfrani, D-Phila.; Vincent Capitulo, D-Phila.

—Authorize payment of an additional pension of $5 per month for each year of service after 20 years for members of town, township and borough police departments, with a limit of $100 on this service bonus (H325)—Reps. Guy A. Kistler, R-Cumberland; LeRoy A. Weidner, R-Berks; William B. Curwood, D-Luzerne; John J. Murray, D-Allegheny.

LOSES PLEA TO VOID EVIDENCE

NEW YORK (AP) — Joseph Mitchell, self-suspended Newburgh City Manager, has lost a bid to have certain telephone conversations and statements reportedly made by him suppressed as evidence in a $20,000 bribery case.

Justice Joseph A. Sarafite of State Supreme Court Monday denied two pretrial defense motions by Mitchell. The motions would have suppressed as evidence telephone conversations Mitchell allegedly had with a co-defendant, Lawrence J. De Masi Jr., and statements reportedly made by Mitchell after his arrest.

Sarafite is to preside at Mitchell's trial.

A third pretrial motion, still pending before Justice George M. Carney, seeks to invalidate a search warrant and suppress evidence obtained with it last Dec. 7, when two New York City detectives arrested Mitchell on bribery and conspiracy charges.

Mitchell, who gained nationwide prominence with a crackdown on relief recipients, suspended himself from his city manager's job pending the outcome of the trial.

He is accused of demanding and receiving a bribe from a contractor seeking a change in zoning regulations.

Governor Plans Air Inspection

HARRISBURG (AP) — Gov. Scranton will make an air inspection tour of strip mines in western Pennsylvania on Thursday.

A source close to him said Scranton decided Monday he would undertake the trip, which had been advanced a week ago by Dr. H. Beecher Charnbury, state mines secretary.

Charnbury suggested the tour so Scranton might see some of the problems connected with restoring the vast bituminous areas stripped for coal.

Tentative plan: call for the governor, Charnbury, and several aides to fly in a state plane to the Mid-State Airport near Philipsburg in Centre County. There they will board helicopters for a close inspection of the numerous coal pits in the area.

Her Puppy Love Romance Bursts In Death Crash

By DIAL TORGERSON

LOS ANGELES (AP)—"He was my first serious boy friend," said Paulette Lewis, 15. "We had been going steady one month and 12 days."

Then she began to cry. Paulette told Monday, between tears, of the moment David Brimley sacrificed his life for hers as they walked, hand-in-hand, across an avenue near their homes.

Suddenly a car roared through a red light, glanced off another auto, and hurtled, brakes squealing, at Paulette and David.

"David shouted, 'Look out,' and he gave me a push," Paulette said. "I think he tried to run, but when I recovered my balance, I couldn't see him."

HURLED TO DEATH

David, 17, who had just gotten his first job and enrolled in his first college course, was hurled 150 feet to his death.

The careening car slid into a power pole and halted. Three young men jumped out and ran.

"I looked around," said Paulette, "and saw where the car had hit the pole down the street. I walked down there—" Again she cried "—and found him lying at the curb."

Police drove her home after the accident Sunday night. Her mother, Jean Lewis, called a doctor. He treated the pretty, blonde 10th grader with sedatives.

Police also went to tell David's mother, Lillian Armstrong, a few doors away.

PART-TIME JOB

She told a newsman later how her son had just enrolled as a math major at Santa Monica City College and had obtained a part-time job, his first, as a drugstore delivery boy.

"His first check, $20, was due today," she said.

The tragedy reached into other homes, too: into the homes of the divorced parents of Raymond Garcia, 17.

He walked into a police station Monday night, flanked by his father, Raymond Sr., and his mother, Rose Cueva. He told officers that it was his car which was in the accident. The auto had been abandoned at the scene.

He said he remembered hitting the other car but not the boy. He said he ran from the scene and spent most of the day hiding in an alley behind his mother's home, watching police come, looking for him. Finally he went in the house. His mother telephoned his father. They convinced him it was best to surrender.

He was booked on suspicion of manslaughter.

Mrs. Armstrong, the dead boy's mother, said she had no feelings against him.

"It has happened," she said. "David is gone. We can't undo it."

FINAL TEST ON RACING BILL

HARRISBURG (AP) — Legislation to tighten regulations on harness racing operations was awaiting a full complement of supporters today for a final test in the House.

Absenteeism—at least some of it attributed to virus infections—cut into the ranks and forced a delay Monday.

Republicans, who must provide the bulk of the 106 votes needed to pass the Scranton administration measure, were cut below that strength by absences.

Rep. Maurice H. Goldstein of Pittsburgh, the bill's principal sponsor, put off a showdown to be sure he had enough votes on hand. He figured only a handful of Democrats in his corner.

Meanwhile, Goldstein successfully argued against amendments broadening the restrictions, on the grounds the amendments would only detract from the principal purpose of the bill.

The measure prohibits political party or elected officials and state or municipal employees from owning stock or holding employment at a licensed track.
